*Sometimes referred to as a combined board, joint board or land use board, this is a single board that has the power and authority to hear cases traditionally heard by the zoning board of adjustment, and when the Class I and II members are not present, can hear applications traditionally heard by the planning board.

¥ Students refer to anyone enrolled in a secondary college or university or in a graduate program. Ph.D. students are not eligible.

[#] AICP CM credits are free for professional members, large and small corporate members and three way membership only. Professional planners who are members of their planning or zoning boards are only entitled to free AICP CM credits if the municipality is a three way member (for combined boards: two way membership) or are professional members of NJPO.
